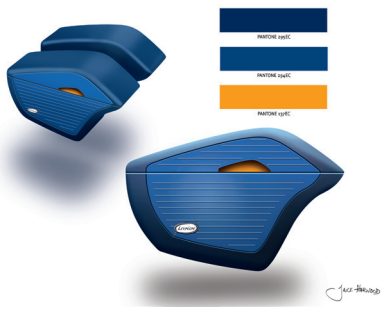
White Models

White models were made from two of the early leading designs. One of the major modifications moving forward was concerning the relief for the foot and leg coming around on the pedals. Initially relief was given in both width at the front and a cut out on the lower section front section. The width relief provided no advantage and the bottom relief needed to be much larger.



Final Exploration

Colors and logo location were explored on a design similar to the final model. The design was then refined to produce a final model.
