

nobis alarm clock

William Addison

The "nobis" alarm clock is an easy to set and easy to look at clock that uses knobs instead of buttons to set the time and alarm to eliminate the problem of having to press that minute button 60 more times if you miss the correct time. The knobs also function as tuner and volume controls for the radio.

Just pull out the Hr/Min knob and spin to the correct time, then push it back in to set the time or alarm.

Extra small snooze button to discourage usage.
