

Cascading Water Container

The Cascading Water Container was designed in response to a growing problem in many cities, but specifically to Philadelphia. This issue is known as excessive rain water run off.

I was teamed up with Tom Perrone and we collaborated on this design for the Philadelphia Horticulture Society that belongs to the Old City residential area of Philadelphia.

