

Safe Source

In many developing countries, the task of retrieving water is often left to women and children who resort to physically destructive practices to transport water, on average walking five miles.

3.5 million annual deaths are accredited to water-borne diseases.

Safe Source relocates the weight to the ground allowing Users to tow/ push water.

Using naturally made terra cotta water filters, water that enters Safe Source is then filtered during transport.

