

J.Lo's Second Thoughts About Bradley

Jennifer Lopez fears Bradley Cooper will leave her heartbroken

She's known for wearing barely there dresses and flaunting her men on the red carpet, but when Jennifer Lopez was spotted riding with Hangover star Bradley Cooper in his SUV on Oct. 15, she promptly covered her face and tried to hide.

The reason? While the pair are dating — they previously dined together at ritzy NYC restaurant Per Se in September — an insider tells Life & Style that the 42-year-old mom of two isn't sure where the relationship is headed — or how much longer it will last. "She's keeping it low-key right now, very private," reveals an American Idol insider. "She usually speaks her mind, but she's kept mum about Bradley."

Playing It Safe

With three marriages and a broken engagement behind her, J.Lo's being cautious — with good reason. Bradley, 36, who split with Renée Zellweger in March, has a reputation as a player. His 2007 marriage to Jennifer Esposito lasted just four months, and since then he's been linked to a string of stars including Scarlett Johansson, Cameron Diaz and Jennifer Aniston. "He's always into someone new," confirms a source close to the actor. "He likes to keep his options open."

While Bradley's having a great time with J.Lo, multiple Hollywood insiders warn that he has an ulterior motive for dating her: to boost his star power. "Bradley is all about Bradley," says a producer who's worked with the actor. "He's very driven and ambitious."

So Jennifer's smart to protect her heart until she knows where she stands with Bradley. But she has an even more important reason to take things slowly: Max and Emme, her 3-year-old twins with soon-to-be ex-husband Marc Anthony. "They're my first priority," J.Lo asserts. "Because of them, I wouldn't ever comment...until I'm in a serious relationship again. It would just be confusing for them, and it would be unfair. And so, at the end of the day, it's about them." LS

Why She's Worried

He Jumps From Woman to Woman!

BRADLEY'S A PLAYBOY

Bradley, who's dated stars including Renée Zellweger, Scarlett Johansson and Olivia Wilde, "loves beautiful women," says a pal. In fact, adds an insider, since he and Jennifer aren't serious yet, "Bradley's been out with other women — including Scarlett — since his first date with J.Lo."

HE'S NOT GOOD WITH KIDS

She puts her twins first, but Bradley says he'd like to be the kind of dad who, "when my kid's asleep, I'm drinking a beer, talking about somebody banging chicks in Vegas."

MARC'S UPSET

Marc isn't happy J.Lo moved on so soon after their marriage ended in July. He also doesn't want Bradley to spend time with his toddlers — and he's not afraid to tell J.Lo how he feels.

GUARDING HER HEART

J.Lo is taking things slowly with Bradley because she knows about his reputation with women. "She's afraid he'll dump her to go off with someone else," a producer on her new show, Q'Viva, tells Life & Style.
