

Letter from the President:

The beginning of a new year is a time of promise and possibility. My wish for you is that you are able to realize all of your goals this year and enjoy good health and prosperity throughout.

As for all of us at ANP Transcriptions, we're looking ahead with great anticipation for 2008. As the meeting industry begins to fulfill its great promise we are poised to make the most of new industry trends. ANP is now offering many new services:

Translation:

The world is in fact getting smaller. With more and more companies expanding internationally, the need to offer translation services has grown. With foreign language translators and transcribers already in place, ANP Transcriptions is ready to help you meet the challenges of international communication.

Recording:

In today's business world, meetings and conferences are taking place in virtual conference rooms with greater frequency. Our cutting-edge technology allows us to record and transcribe these events seamlessly. Which translates to a savings of time and money for you.

We know the difficulty in finding customers, keeping customers, and growing customers. That's why we pride ourselves in achieving 100% client satisfaction with every service we provide. This has been our standard and it will remain so in 2008. In fact, if our work does not meet your standards you will not be charged for the service. It's just our way of demonstrating that when it comes to translations, we're more than just talk.

Thank you,

Albert Suied

Growth:

RECORDING SERVICES: ANP Transcription offers professional meeting and conference recording services. Our national network of audio technicians are capable of recording your meetings and conferences- anywhere in the United States. Simply let us know when and where your meeting is scheduled, and our audio engineers will be there. Our highly skilled professionals and state-of-the-art recording equipment ensures top quality results whether it's a 1hr meeting, a week long symposium, or whatever your specific needs may be.

CALL HOSTING: If you need a conference call set up, ANP can give you a dedicated toll-free number that all of your participants can easily dial into. Afterwards, a recording of the call will immediately be available via web-download.

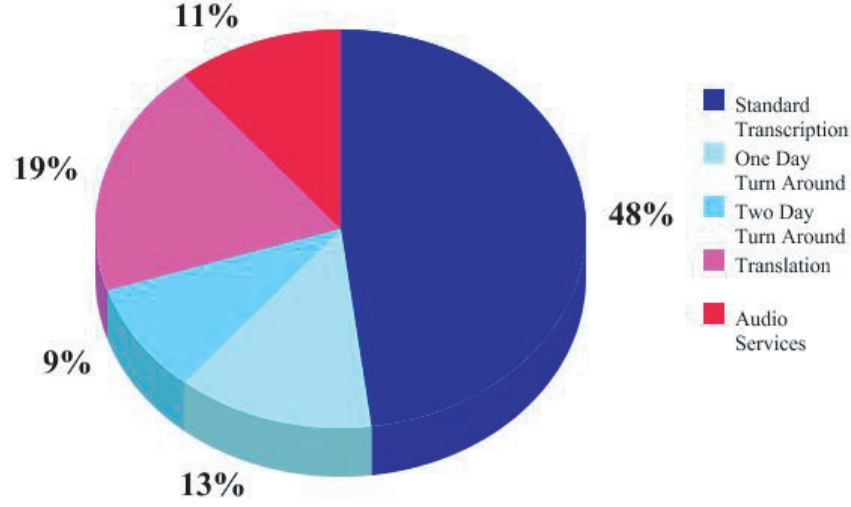

CALL RECORDING: For those who are dialing into an existing conference call, ANP offers a dedicated line that can be used to dial in and record the call. An automated notification E-mail will arrive with a link to your audio once the call has ended.

LIVE TRANSCRIBING: Need a transcript of a call in a hurry? Our Live recording service is standing by. We can deliver your transcript within 3-4 hours after the call has ended.

SUMMARY WRITING: ANP Transcriptions has a staff of PhD writers dedicated to our summary writing services. This specialized team can readily provide you with a 2-10 page synopsis of any meeting or conference. This is especially useful for those who do not have the time to read a 700-page transcript! The Summary includes all major discussion points and data.
