

欲 Yokubou

望 A Geisha inspired chair...

The Geisha is a woman whose title means, "person of the arts." Besides the arts of song, dance and tea ceremony, an accomplished Geisha can easily gain the admiration of her male clients with nothing more than a seductive look.

The New Seduction...

The Yokubou chair meaning "desire" in Japanese, is meant to be set at a modern American version of a traditional Japanese tea house. The subtle yet elegant curves of the chair evoke the gracefulness and allure of the Geisha's trained movement, while the character for "desire" or "passion" is cut out every chair.
