

Water: The Forgotten Crisis

The American family consumes 300 gallons of water a day and by 2025 the United States will be responsible for more than 10% of the global household water consumption.

Only .1% of the world's water is readily accessible for consumption. If we do not take care of our water supplies What will we drink?

2.5% Fresh Water

