

Redefining Psychiatry

OVERVIEW

Mederi is led by a pioneering team of executives and a highly skilled group of psychiatrists who hold vast experience in the field of telemedicine. As we serve the growing demand for subspecialty psychiatry services, Mederi has become the next generation of telepsychiatry practice by gearing itself towards the general and subspecialty domain.

With modern day advancements within telepsychiatry, physicians are no longer required to be on-site to offer advanced psychiatry services. Mederi understands the pressures that providers face in a multitude of settings:

- Emergency Departments
- Inpatient medical/surgical
- Community Behavioral Health
- Traditional private practice outpatient offices

This vast knowledge that we attain will ensure that each of our customer's patients are seen in the most dignified and respectful manner to the patient while ensuring that each client has a return on their investment through proper utilization review and best outcomes management practices.

Mederi works actively with individual clinical or facility settings to create an affordable and professional solution that utilizes our innovative technology and our staff of board certified and fellowship-trained physicians. Our goal is to be an extension of your current practice.
