

The Customer is the Last Link

Think about it... by requesting FSC certified materials you will become the last link in the chain of responsibility toward helping the forests.

Future generations can benefit from the choice that you make when printing from FSC materials. Over the past 13 years, over 90 million hectares in more than 70 countries have been certified according to FSC standards.

Printech is Certified by The Forest Stewardship Council®

In many forests around the world, logging still contributes to habitat destruction, water pollution, displacement of indigenous peoples, and violence against people who work in the forest and the wildlife that dwells there. Many consumers of wood and paper, and many forest products companies believe that the link between logging and these negative impacts can be broken, and that forests can be managed and protected at the same time. Forest Stewardship Council® certification is one way to improve the practice of forestry.

Products bearing the FSC logo, guarantees that the wood from a certified well-managed forest, is available across the world from a variety of mills, manufacturers, and distributors.

Trusted environmental organizations including Greenpeace, National Wildlife Federation, The Nature Conservancy, Sierra Club, and World Wildlife Fund all support and encourage FSC certification. Consumers wishing to support healthy forests and communities should look or ask for the FSC label when purchasing wood or paper products.
