

Once you have determined your angle and length, continue your cut sections, pivoting around the head shape. Note: If the section from nape to crown is too wide for your fingers, split it into two for ease of cutting.

Taking your last section at the ear, you will begin to see a slight bevel to your shape. Repeat on the opposite side.

Completed shape for back.

When hair is dry, section off. Spray each section with Thermal Design and flat iron your shape. When hair is smooth begin to check your original under cut for any imperfections.

Once undercut is completed, begin to texture the long overhanging top shape to blend with your undercut into a desired shape. You may use a series of texturing techniques and angles to achieve your desired look.

Soften your shape always maintaining the vision of your overall finish. Complete look with appropriate styling products such as Senscience Pliable Shine Pomade and Senscience Designer Flexible Shaping Spray.
