

During the ideation process for the blenders, I focused on the visual language along with the functionality of the appliance. The function is what drives the design of the blender.

