

Usually the solids on the top are harder to blend. By picking up the blender and spinning it in a circular motion, it creates a faster and more even blend. This cuts down time and increases efficiency.

When pouring, the elbow is raised higher for the pitcher to the pour through the spout.

Using the side of the pitcher to pour is more comfortable. However, since there isn't a spout, pouring becomes messy.

