

Most innovative product or service in the last 10 years:

Social networking websites, such as Facebook and MySpace. They've become wildly popular fulfilling a need that most of us didn't know we had, and they fundamentally alter the way we interact with the world around us.

Evan Durant

Execution Award

Evan implemented breakthrough improvements in productivity, inventory, and cycle-time at Maxtek by converting five cells to Lean manufacturing. Evan is motivated by the challenges that appear to be intractable by breaking them down into solvable pieces. He says that to move an idea to application he likes to “Just Do It”.
