groom style

keeping watch

The wedding gift exchange between a couple is an optional tradition, but we love the idea. And you can't go wrong with a watch (which will get almost as much wear as the ring). Here are a few of our faves.

- 1 This alligator wristband is the epitome of luxury. Slimline Classics automatic, $2,595, Frederique-Constant.com
- 2 A no-brainer for the tech-loving groom. Apple watch, from $349, Apple.com
- 3 Modeled after vintage clocks, it's powered by your arm's movement. Grant automatic, $175, Fossil.com
- 4 This diver-style design uses Swiss quartz to keep time. Oceanique, $625, Mougin & Piquard, JCrew.com
- 5 A black face gives a sporty watch a sophisticated edge. Nixon 51-30 Chrono watch, $500, Nordstrom.com

A CHICK FLICK HE'LL LIKE

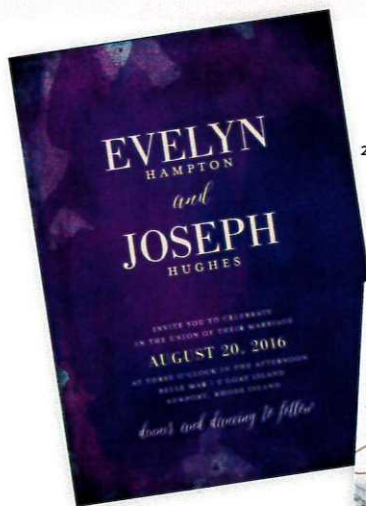

Everyone needs a time-out from wedding planning—make yours a date night at the movies. The Wedding Ringer (in theaters January 16th) stars Josh Gad, a lovable groom-to-be without a wedding party. Before he marries dream girl Kaley Cuoco-Sweeting, he hires Kevin Hart, owner of The Best Man Inc., to provide him with a few good men. You can guess where this is going, right? Hilarious charades and an unexpected bromance make this a perfect (romantic) comedy for to-be-weds.

hot stationery trend carved in stone

Stone is having a moment right now. From veiny marbles to vibrant emerald malachite, this mineral trend is sweeping paper suites. It's a brilliant mix of classic and modern, adding instant luxury to your invites.
