

Garrott is a multi-faceted design studio that combines modern fashion with art and illustration. The Garrott collection features draped knit dresses with lady-like leather accents. A focus on construction detail and drape accentuate the figure. Contrast of the soft and structured reflects a modern woman's desire to be bold and feminine.

Garette Johnson, the designer behind the studio, graduated in 2004 from the Savannah College of Art and Design with a B.F.A. in fashion design and illustration. Upon graduation Garette accepted a position at Kay Unger New York, and has continued design work under labels such as Alberto Makali, and Magaschoni. The launch of her own collection Garrott, is a culmination of her experience in commercial design and a desire to create artistic pieces for the individual.
