COMMUNITY FORUM

About 20 East End residents met on the evening of 28 January at Cocolat in Rundle Street to plan how the East End community can be engaged in improving the area and to encourage conversations with each other outside of the meeting. They identified the following three priorities to improve the area:

1. Address antisocial behaviors occurring in public realm mainly related to overconsumption of alcohol
2. Improve litter management on footpaths especially during events and on weekends
3. Address noise from entertainment venues, events and street performers especially bongo drummers.

The boundaries of what is known as the East End are marked by the following streets: Grenfell Street, East Terrace, North Terrace and Pulteney Street.

People who were unable to attend planning meetings, and especially local businesses, are invited to share their views on the East End with Iwona Pattison, Adelaide City Council's Community Development Officer via e-mail: i.pattison@adelaidecitycouncil.com or by phone 8203 7219.
