

"You know, Lester, we are going to audition for the 6th grade play, The Wizard of Oz. You should come try out with us."

"Ehh... I don't know. I'm not a very good actor. What if I get stage fright and forget my lines?"

"Don't worry, Lester. We're gonna practice everyday after school. And some of the parts only have a few words."

"Good morning class, settle down. Today, I have prepared a special presentation using the rules of the ocean to demonstrate how you kids can avoid bullies. As you know, the ocean is filled with creatures big and small. The smaller creatures stand little chance against a big, hungry shark. In order to stay alive, the smaller animals have learned certain tricks to avoid being eaten for dinner."
