

Emily's Sunday
By
G.K. Walker

Emily's Sunday is a children's story of a five year old little girl spending Sunday afternoon having brunch with her beloved Grandmother after having attended her first Church Sunday school. Authentic Southern recipes are added at the end of the book for grandmothers, mothers and daughters to create their own Sunday brunch traditions.

Emily's Sunday is the first of a planned series of Emily's Sunday children's books. One of the things attractive about this children's book project is it reminiscent of the Marley and Me children's books, recently turned into a major motion picture. The story is approximately 7,000 words and will need over thirty pieces of photo realistic gouache art story board panels. Mr. Kadir Nelson is favored by Mr. Walker to provide the artwork for this project, or artwork of a similar photo realistic style.

Mr. Walker has crafted an interesting, endearing story in a mesmerizing style, of a multi-generational family with engaging male and female characters. The poignant storyline is full of tender emotion.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Book Title: Emily's Sunday

Genre: Children's Book. This is a picture book.

Grade: K-3

Market(s): Christian children's, Women's Multi-Generational, Cook books, Holiday gifts.

Illustrations other than the cover: Yes

Illustrations Detail: The book needs Illustrations, a minimum of thirty (30).

Edited: No

Sold to date: New book, yet to be sold

Sales support: Speak about the traditions surrounding family and religion.

Edited Detail: Yet to be published. Book is written in a screenplay format for the illustrator, and for other prospective projects.

Publication Research: Yes

Marketing done to date: None.

Current sponsors: Looking

Any Web Presence: None yet

Previously Published: Yet to be published. Children's Book is written in a screenplay format for the illustrator, and for other prospective projects.

Cost to Publish: Not calculated

Retail Price: Not calculated

Current Inventory: New book, searching for a good Children's book publisher.

URLs Featuring Your Book: New book, searching for a good Children's book publisher.

AUTHOR INFORMATION

Name: Gene K. Walker (G.K. Walker)

Address: 1965 May Street

Beaumont, TX 77705

(409) 842-9059 (409) 504-9217

Email: genekeithw@aol.com

Gene Walker Biography: Born in Beaumont, Texas in August 28th, 1965 Mr. Walker is a Industrial Design Conceptual Artist. Mr. Walker is also an Internet Research Specialist.

Mr. Walker's Goals: To have his books published and treatments adapted to film.

Discuss Goals: To write professionally, full time and sell all projects for screen treatment adaptation. Those book and screen treatment writing projects are:

Emily's Sunday Children's Book and treatment; OFFWORLD Man Novel and treatment.

- Author of 'OFFWORLD Man', a military science fiction novel based on twenty years of research into the military aerospace community.
- Author of 'Emily's Sunday' children's book