

Head Monster is a mixed reality interactive game where the user uses a face shape control panel to drive a head-like small robot. When the robot hits a projected object, it will eat the object, and the face will change. Some objects represent good, and others are bad. You earn points by eating the good objects and get deducted points for eating bad objects. The user needs to gain as high a score as possible in a limited amount of time.