

Leaf Radio is an experimental form project trying to redefine the form of a radio. The user tunes into a station by rotating the base of the radio and changes the volume by tilting the leaf.

A radio circuit, including a speaker, is embedded in the Paper-stone base, and a tilt sensor is embedded in the Sugru formed leaf.

