

Good Morning,

I would be able to conduct a workshop/training on May 15th 2:30 - 4:00. I am glad you mentioned your bowl and basket, I have had it in my office since we came back to school and I forget to bring it every week! If it isn't with me in class please remind me to go get it from my office. Can you send me the address of the site where I will be conducting the workshop? Also , let me know if there is something in particular that you would like me to focus on. At first thought I think it would be of benefit to talk about the integration of Ecological theory (through assessment, conceptualization, treatment planning) to practice within the framework of the guidelines set forth by multicultural competency standards. Nonetheless, this is still a broad area so let me know how I can make the presentation more specific to the audience and those they serve. Have a great day!
Patricia

Greta Hochstetler <gcbo_ghochst@k12server.mveca.org> wrote:

Hi there!

I understand if you are too busy to do this, so please don't feel pressured... If you are still interested, you could conduct the training on Tuesday, May 1st from 2:30-4 p.m. or Tuesday, May 15th anytime from 8-4 p.m. We have 14 Master's-level Social Workers & Counselors (including me), 1 Master's-level Art Therapist, 1 Bachelor's-level Social Worker/Job Development Coordinator, & up to 4 graduate Master's-level interns. So, total audience potential would be 20 professionals.

How does it sound?!