FLEXIBILITY

"Go anywhere" mandates and consistent inflows maximize their expertise.

Why is flexibility important?

If a manager is too constrained by style or a specific investment formula to evaluate every potential opportunity, then why pay for active management?

RESULTS

Winners of five Canadian Investment Awards.

Why are results important?

Quality active managers get better with time on the job. Which means a manager with a great record in all kinds of markets is likely to continue that trend.

INTEGRITY

Their own money is invested in the funds they manage.

Why is integrity important?

Managers who invest their own capital in the funds they manage, are, like you, only interested in returns.

CONVICTION

Concentrated portfolios of unique investment ideas.

Why is conviction important?

The best managers see something no one else does, are not afraid to act, and understand the road less travelled is the way to long-term outperformance.

EXPERIENCE

Nearly 50 years' combined investment management experience.

Why is experience important?

You simply can't evaluate the opportunities in a down market or assess the warning signs when things get overheated if you haven't been there before.
