

The miracles of science™

Chosen for complimentary Materials and Fabrication for show room display and possible trade shows.

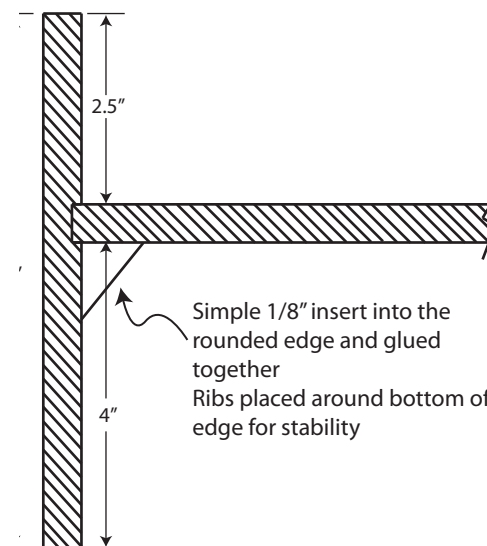

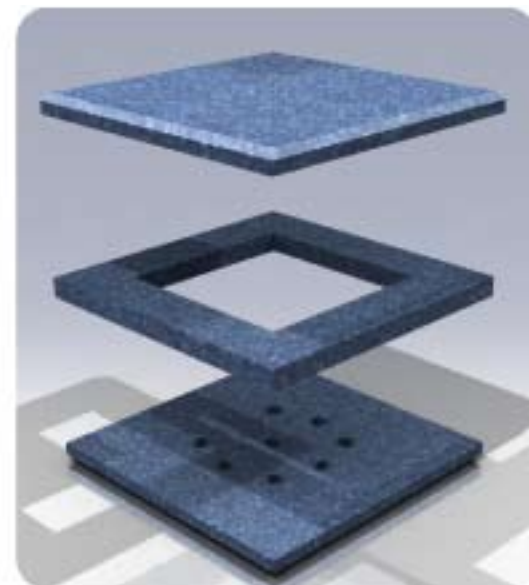

Scaled down by half, This fountain is a desktop fountain, that sits less than two feet tall and only twenty-one inches wide with a seven inch skirt.

The pump rests under the skirt hidden and uses rubber tubing to run the water directly up into the top layer and flow down through the fountain.

The water flows through the fountain into the bowl, then directly back into the pump and up to the fountain again.

Sponsored by Corian for free materials, and my own personal Fabrication

Sunterra 109006 Small Fountain Pump, 75 GPH, Black

Basic Dimensions

