
Performathon 2007

WELCOME to the DePaul Community Music Division's eleventh annual Performathon.

I want to thank each and every one of our participants and their families and friends for joining us on this special day to celebrate the richness of our community music school. Every year I am thrilled to see new faces and the many familiar faces who have returned to take part in this exciting event.

Over 300 students have asked friends, neighbors and family members to sponsor their performances for this ten-hour, continuous, marathon recital. Area businesses and interested individuals have also shown their support through patron contributions, advertisements, and donations of products and services. All proceeds from Performathon support our scholarship program, theater children program, partnership programs with schools, and other community service projects.

The Performathon represents the highest level of achievement of our Community Music students, the excellent instruction offered by our dedicated faculty and the caring support of our parents and mentors.

A sincere thank you to all students, parents, volunteers, faculty and professional staff for your time and efforts in making Performathon 2007 a wonderful success.

About the Community Music Division

The DePaul Community Music Division, a part of DePaul University's School of Music, is dedicated to providing the highest quality music instruction to interested students of all ages and abilities, regardless of age, race, religion, financial means, or level of ability. Founded in 1998, the Division serves approximately 600 students in Lincoln Park and the surrounding areas and employs a faculty of over 70 professional musicians and educators. The program offers a wide range of musical opportunities for the community including private lessons, performance ensembles, musicianship classes, workshops, masterclasses and recitals.

The mission of the School is twofold: to provide the opportunity for serious musical study and growth in a nurturing, noncompetitive, and to foster an atmosphere which encourages a lifelong enjoyment of music. The Community Music Division of DePaul University is a institutional Member of the National Guild of Community Schools of the Arts, the pre-eminent organization in the United States that has fostered the growth of community music and arts schools since 1917.
