Assignment: Use biomimicry to create a package for any item

Spirit of the Assignment: Use one element from the chosen organic object to abstract into the package that is appropriate for the item it protects.

My Design: A tulip inspired package for perfume that mimics the way the flower petals open. When the user lifts the package by perfume bottle's cap, the petals open revealing a colorful inside. The petals can then be used as storage for jewelry and other items.
