

Batik Creations

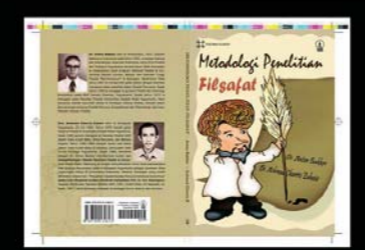

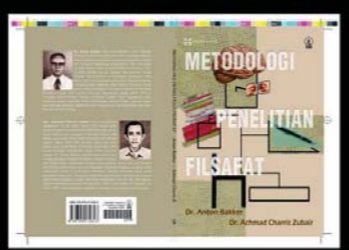

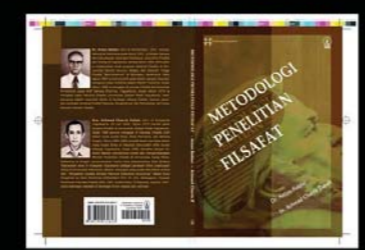

Book Cover Design

Final design

Title: The Methodology of Philosophy Research
Firm: Kanisius Yogyakarta
Printing & Publishing House

Alternative design

Book Cover Design

Final design

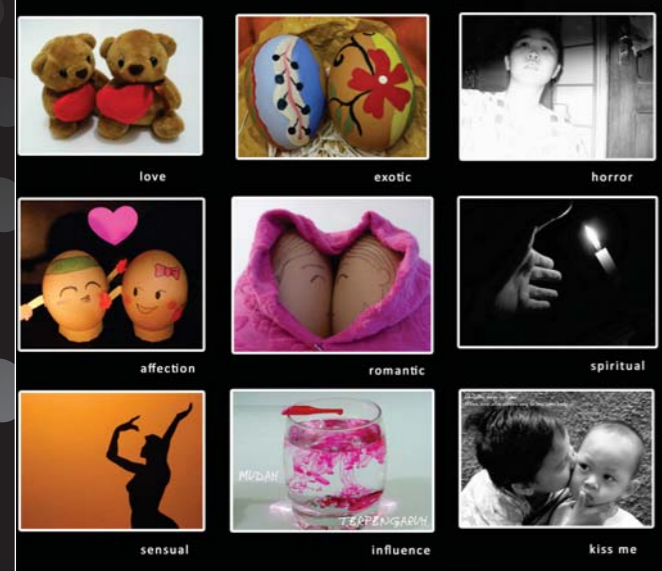

Title: The Magic Power of Emotion
Firm: Kanisius Yogyakarta
Printing & Publishing House

Alternative Design

Photography

If anything was evident, this was, at 33 a mother, a daughter, a friend and ex-business woman was totally lost and confused of who she has become and needed a quick antidote to make it all better.

She needed another reason to live. Nothing could make her happy anymore and unable to move freely after the tag of being bankrupt. Mirmala a Singaporean born Indian girl, decided that hence forth she will live what her life should have been like 20 years back, since time travel is not an option, she basically set simple goals in making herself happy again.

THE STRIP SHOW is about how the author came undone with her life's mess. Her journey into spirituality and becoming the person she wanted to be since she was a child is truly an inspirational read for all of us.

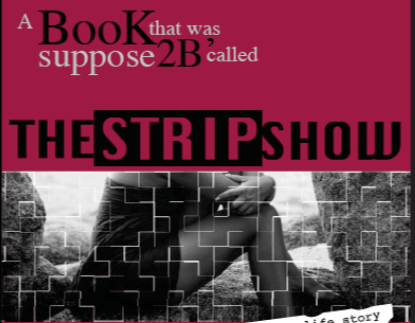

With humour she captivates our hearts with her struggles of being different and yet having to live like everyone else.

Her confusion as to what makes her happy was the reason for this book's birth.

By mel.dnirmala

www.tssbookandmore.com

A book that was suppose to be called THE STRIP SHOW

A mind teasing, inspirational, true life story for an open minded reader.

Mel.dnirmala

