Artist Statement

These paintings visualize the music.

You can see images or forms in the paintings.

The spontaneous nature of the process affected my results in the color, strokes and patterns I chose.

I am most satisfied with number 2, The Smiths, Oscillate Wildly. The flow of the subject directly captured the way I felt when I listen to the music.

The exercise was successful in releasing untapped creativity.

I could you utilize this process for other projects and definitely will.
