Innovation Building LLC has an outstanding history of quality, service and dependability that dates back to 1982. The company is located in Southern California and serves the plastic manufacturing needs of a wide range of customers - both large and small, in the United States and abroad.

We also manufacture a wide range of proprietary specialty products under the "Weather Blocker®" trade name. The Weather Blocker® line is widely used and accepted by home builders, architects, contractors and roofers throughout the world. Plastech's skilled employees excel in the production of custom plastic products.

The custom side of Plastech's business is one of precision customized fabrication using methods such as thermoforming, pressure forming, CNC machining, adhesion and mechanical assembly through a wide range of plastic materials. We work with our customers from the initial stages of a project - which often includes original product design work, tooling creation, prototype development, material selection and testing. In other situations, the scope of our work may simply begin with the preparation of a firm quotation in direct response to a request for the production of an existing or previously designed part. In today's competitive marketplace, our customers' "blanket" order programs.

From our factory in Ashbourne, Derbyshire, this family run business design and create vacuum trays, blisters and clams for various industries - confectionery and bakery, toiletry and pharmaceutical, electronic and light engineering, homeware and DIY.
