

+Watch

By far the piece of work that I am proud of most throughout this entire semester is the watch. Having gone through and developed a product from start till finish was a great feeling. The interface and purposing of the Jacobs ladder function was the greatest part.

+Development/Ideation

I just could not stop sketching and making more watch designs/functions. Some had magnetic dongles you play with in your hand, some had faces that split in half, faces that stretched apart, pieces that popped out and moved around, and so many more. Then I found out about Jacob's Ladder which is basically magic, and so that was the one I was following through with.
