CDs case

This project was born to create an object that shows the connection between art and design. I chose one of the most famous 20th-century artists, Wassily Kandinsky, and one of the most important personalities that had a central role in the development of Italian design, Alessandro Mendini. Synthesizing forms and colors, I created Snake, a CDs case made of transparent plexiglass with steel spheres. The CDs are blocked by the spheres that slide along the tracks.
