ONLY IN THE WORLD-HERALD: Nikko Jenkins is charged with killing four people in Omaha this year, but criminal activity in his family began decades ago. What's listed above are the 633 criminal convictions against 38 members of the Levering family since 1979. An investigation into the family's history revealed patterns of violence, child neglect and drug and alcohol abuse. The behavior has escalated from generation to generation, making the Leverings one of the city's most notorious crime families.
