

Warren Buffett says building a $100 billion portfolio is “nice.”
What could that “nice” amount buy or build? Oh, a few things.

With $100 billion, you could ...

BUY 1  Boeing Company, or ...

10.2 BILLION

10-ounce boxes of See's peanut brittle, or ...

 151,467

Houses at the taxable value of Buffett's Omaha home, or ...

20 BILLION

Pairs of Buffett and Munger rubber duckies, or ...

3

Sets of the British crown jewels.

PAY

Buffett's yearly salary of $100,000

for 1 million years, or ...

$60,826

Per-share dividend checks,
if all Berkshire stock were Class A, or $40.55 if all shares were converted to Class B, or ...
(if Berkshire paid dividends)

12,240,000

The number of U.S. taxpayers whose annual federal income tax payments could be paid. (That's every resident of Nebraska,
Iowa, Kansas, South Dakota, Wyoming and Arkansas.)

BUILD

421,585

Houses at $237,200 each, one for each person in Omaha, or ...

1,754

TD Ameritrade Parks, or ...

343

CenturyLink Centers, or ...

67

Nebraska Furniture Mart developments
like the one being built near Dallas.

Compiled by The World-Herald's Steve Jordon • Paper sculpture by Matt Haney

Warren Buffett
Class of 1950

KNOWLEDGE PAYS DIVIDENDS.

 @u_nebraska | #FuelingKnowledge

UNIVERSITY OF Nebraska

LINCOLN | OMAHA | KEARNEY | MEDICAL CENTER