THE LEAGUE OF EXTRAORDINARY DENTISTS

SHOWDOWN

A call went out . . .

Ricky "Captain America" Baker, a long-time pillar of oral health and the American Way, led the call for league members to assemble. Cherilyn "Wonder Woman" Sheets and Sergio "Superman" DePaoli responded, bringing with them the Dynamic Duo.

"AT" STONVEHEDGE.

Drew "Green Lantern" Mittelman vowed "Despite my color I will strip teeth and gums of the harmful green algae found throughout the universe. Gregg "Plastic Man" Melfi promised to "shape things up," once he found a pair of tights which were more comfortable.

It was answered . . .

Help came from the heavens and the depths below, in the form of Michael "Silver Surfer" Dewey, and Mark "Hell Boy" Stone. Both agreed that "The fight for oral health is more important than our intergalactic rivalry."

AT STONEHEDGE.

by mortals and gods.

Indeed, Gods and mystics joined forces with mere mortals to combat the dastardly microbial and bacterial invasion. Gunnam "Electra" Kim left her retreat in the Himalayas to aid with the mighty Avengers, led by the God of Thunder himself, Fred "Thor" Hains. Milan "Iron Man" Humplik and Ricky "Captain America" Baker, helped round out this mighty force.

Heroes came from around the world . . .

Nan "She Hulk" Niland, abandoning her mild mannered alter ego, stood ready to face the rampaging hordes. A blow was struck to their dastardly cause when Jim "Spiderman" McDonough seized Enamel Crusher McGee, known as a prime agent in the development of carious lesions.

(L.E.D.)

Sveta "Kitty Pride" Granovskaya and Lou "Wolverine" Sawan joined the league in their quest for oral health, demonstrating that humans and mutants could work together for the common good. Meanwhile, Ivana "Invisible Girl" Adamov flushed out the Sub-Mariner, known for insidiously invading the periodontal sulcus, so that David "Human Torch" Gassiraro, Michael "Mr. Fantastic" Arcieri, and Jim "The Thing" Frontero could seize and destroy him.

from throughout the ages . . .

Even heroes from the past answered the call. Jack "Conan" Murphy and Patty "Red Sonja" Carolan traveled through time from the Hyborean Age, to battle the bacterial hordes. "How can we live happily in the past," asked Red Sonja, "When we know the future will be filled with pestilence and decay?" "While I agree with Red Sonja," stated Conan, "I am really here for some 21st Century beer and hero adulation from the chicks."

"AT" STONVEHEDGE.

June "Black Canary" Lee leapt into action, anxious to beat back the dastardly demon destroyers. Bill "Green Arrow" Lee demonstrated his usual sharp eye and expertise in skewering individual organisms before they could do their dental damage. In the meantime, Ron "Flash" Hersey even raced ahead of Sergio "Superman" DePaoli in his anxiousness to join the fray.

SHOWDOWN

To protect mankind

The battle was carried to the skies as Jay "Hawkman" McDermott fought to repel invading hordes before they could land on unsuspecting cusps. His efforts were aided by the Dark Knight. In the meantime, the X-Men, led by Ira "The Beast" Dickerman, Gail "Marvel Girl" Pezzulo, and Mad Dog "Ice Man" Colizzi, strived to break through the bacterial film created by Magneto, eater of dentin.

"AT" STONEHEDGE.

Phil "Judge Dredd" Struzziero vowed to bring the culpable criminal invaders to justice. He was aided in his efforts by John "Shazam" Pappas, who brought his unmatched might to bear upon the offending hordes.
