

Cinema 4D CAD modeling

This project was done at Skipton College, it was a project looking at new forms of transport inspired by insects, and this is a CAD video of my concept at the interim stage of development. This side show of the video shows how it would move in an off road environment.

