

Bunker Hill, the area of many cultural institutions in L.A., is the site of this project, which consists of a multi-use facility that includes residential, retail, small theater space, and office space. The project opens up towards Frank Gehry's Walt Disney Concert Hall in order to welcome the concert patrons and to draw attention away from the neighboring skyscrapers.

