

Adobe Illustrator Rendering

Plexus | Bike Helmet

Designed for the urban commuter, Plexus is a contemporary approach to headwear protection offering a unique combination of casual style, comfort and individuality for the fashion-minded dweller.

Unlike many existing helmets constructed out of a single piece of foam, Plexus is divided into a series of panels lineked with a breathable mesh, creating an adaptive, form-fitting helmet.

Final Clay Model