

After sketching I went to sketch models to look at form, function, manufacturability and materials of the product.

