

UNCOVERED VIBRATIONS

a force to be reckoned with

NOT FOR THE 3 SUPERSTARS OUT OF JACKSONVILLE, FL, THAT HAVE WORKED ON SEVERAL PROJECTS TOGETHER, HAVE A MESSAGE AND A STYLE ALL OF THEIR OWN.

Ms. Destin'y, whose original hometown is one claimed to R & B heavyweights Dwele, Aaliyah (for a minute) and the stage sensation; Diana Ross, is making a major climb up the artist ladder with her soulfully strong and yet, silky vocal expressions. Like N'dambi was to Erykah Badu, a background singer known for making songs pop and come alive so has Destin'y been for many artists around town. But, this year the songstress is stepping out on her own and in a big way!

Currently in the studio recording her debut album, which will be a tribute to such artists as Luther Vandross, Michael Jackson and even Stevie Wonder has a tentative release date for later on this year! In our interview, I was dumbfounded to learn of the many challenges that this Nubian queen encountered. From physical abuse at an early age, to a marriage that was built on verbal assaults, to her home being destroyed in a four-alarm fire leaving her with what she thought was 'nothing', however, unbeknownst to her, was history in the making. When a woman gives birth, she unfortunately has the labor pains first, but every mother that I've ever talked to, proudly makes the same declaration- IT WAS WORTH IT! And so the same can be said for Ms. Destin'y. While I'm sure if she could do it all over, there are some areas that she'd like to bypass, but from ashes to beauty, strength and power were born.

I don't wanna sound like a cliché, but I gotta do it, with a voice as sassy and magnetic as her's, Destin'y is destined for greatness and TE will have our eye on her every step of the way! For more information Destin'y can be found @ <http://facebook.com/ilookgreat1>.

Des', what a perfect web addy, because you're right, you look great and you wear success well! Gone Girl!

In Las Vegas you'll often hear, 'C'mon lucky #7', with a cat with weak lines you'll hear 'C'mon girl, I'm like the #7 ready to take you to heaven' (surely said, with a mouth full of gold teeth, high jacked pants and of course, a JERRY CURL!) and in the house of the Lord, you may even hear that 7 is God's favorite number, but in whatever capacity you'd like to remember the word, trust, when I say, Seven is a dude who you won't be able to forget! This floetic genius who was reading encyclopedias at the age of 3 and finding pleasure rhyming to Dr. Seuss' books is making a mark and leaving deep impressions within his path! I mean, really, who doesn't like 'Green eggs & ham, I am'?

From the heartbreaking experiences of losing his two year old brother to bacterial meningitis (commonly caused by second hand cancer) to the loss of his aunt to breast cancer, this young man has turned tragedy into triumph and has risen from what was once a hard life, to being the founder and owner of his own label; F.A.C.E Front And Center Entertainment which is now home to over a dozen artists who are fully committed to changing and enriching the lives of everyone who comes in contact with these amazingly talented individuals.

The submitted sample that I received titled Body Shop caused an immediate intrigue. So as my mental game of 'Guess What This Song's About' began and the music cued up, I went through several scenarios as to what the song could possibly speak on, but to my surprise and for the first time in history.. (smile)..I was wrong. The incredible single plays off the natural scene of a car that's been severely damaged and short of having a two-ton beam fall on it and declare it totaled, it's taken to not just any body shop, but the body shop; back to the very manufacturer who created it. What's the killa about this cut is that if you pay attention, you'll quickly find that the manufacturer is his Creator and the damaged vehicle is really him.

When I asked him how he came up with such a wise strategy to get folks who normally would turn a deaf ear to anything 'churchy', his response was simple, yet poetic, 'Those who are well, don't need a doctor'. He said he couldn't expect to speak to cats from his neighborhood nor to the world without coming just as hard as some of the other well-known artists that are in their ears and minds. Well Seven, it's evident that getting in the hearts and minds of those across this nation will be as easy as those encyclopedias that you cruised through way back in the day! I'm lovin' your style and am looking forward to seeing your name in lights! You can follow this exhilarating producer/composer/rap artist by going to www.myspace.com/sevenjvip.

This is why I'm hot' are the lyrics that come to mind with the very mentioning of Omotayo's name (Pronounced O-mo-tie-yo). Not because he's related to MIMS, but for the tight beats, laid tracks, tongue twisting, always entertaining, in depth bombastic rhymes that this cat is spittin'. Tracks that have become a CONSTANT play on my Ipod, in the car and while working at the ol' desk. Being a New York native, one would expect him to exude the very swagger that's within, but the hip hop head combines his natural boldness with a Southern charm, drawing you in and holding you captive to every word that he speaks. Before this young man sent his music to me, the first thing I thought was, 'With a name like that, this dude better bring it!' And in true Omotayo fashion, he didn't disappoint! His name means 'A Child Brings Happiness'. It's Nigerian with a Yoruba root. There were sooooo many songs that I found myself bumpin', giving me much joy & excitement, it was hard for me to pick a favorite. But, since you know I had to try, let's go! 1st on the roll call for 'The Sky's The Limit' Hot List: The Masterplan. For most of us, what comes to mind is a joint by Eric B. & Rakim and though those two make up the timeless classic 'Paid In Full', this cut stands in an untouchable class by itself and starts off with eccentric beats that causes your head to bounce and ya' hands to float towards your volume just to get as entwined as lyrically possible! Next! Walk In Faith- a song that flows through your speakers so easily that for about three seconds, you'd swear you were listening to a collab with Common himself. The easy, breezy background is the perfect set up for Sweep it Out the next upbeat, funk-da-fied hit that will have you replacing your 'Walk It Out' moves to this heated off the scale chart busting song! Next! OMGsh, I could go on for days about this cat's songs from the entire mixtape 'Iconoclast Vols 1 & 2' to Baptized By Fire, Do Something, to Get Behind Me, a release that provides the answer for every struggle and thought that one could have. Those midnight thoughts that only serve purpose for defeating and hindering your progress in whatever you're trying to achieve, however, if you wanna know what that answer is, then I guess you'll just have to check my man out at <http://omotayo.bandcamp.com/>. Big ups O'! See, you had doubts as a kid, but yo' auntie knew what she was doing when she named you! •SK
