

Thump!

Pestle and Mortar

Analysis of problem through user trials

Wood material is not recommended for production of pestle and mortar to the physical quality of the material. Granite is more popular for its stability and usability. However, its bulk is a negative point for the product. Hence, in the creation of the pestle of mortar there are several aspects which should be considered.

