

HOW & WEAR

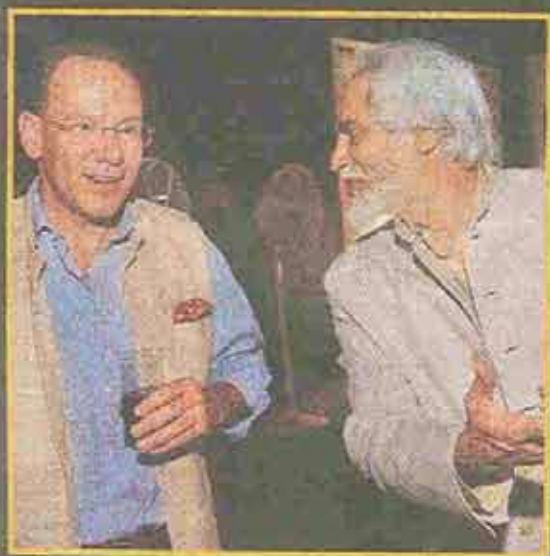

FDCI recently organised a fashion show in the capital to display its final entries for the World of Wearable Art 2009 contest. As the name suggests, it was art on the ramp. With dresses made of discarded mobile charger pins, inspired by geometric shapes, old door hinges and the queen bee, the evening was the celebration of some creative yet whacky designs!

Charu Parashar

Rina Dhaka

CHALTE CHALTE: Ambassador of New Zealand, Rupert Holborow, and Sunil Sethi

FACT OR MYTH?
A model walks the ramp in a dress inspired by mythical creatures

