

Narrowed Concepts

From the initial ideation sketches, a design direction was chosen. I pursued the child carrier for a bike concept for Sasha, who stays at home with their child. She often runs errands on her bike and needs to be able to safely and easily take her child with her on her outings. Bike placement positions were explored first.

