

Design Development

A series of exercises were employed to come up with as many divergent concepts and ideas as possible. Inspiration was taken from multiple avenues: technologies, materials and processes, nature, music.

