Attention mothers! Please help me research!

OPINIONS NEEDED!!

My name is Katherine and I need your help! I am working on a personal project regarding the interaction between mothers and their children. The focus is working to improve a mother's daily life by updating safety in the home. As everyone knows, each year there is more and more technology in our worlds creating more hazardous environments for our children. I am not a mother so I can only imagine the change of lifestyle for a woman now responsible for another being. The relationship between a mother and child interests me greatly specifically in the last 10 years. I feel there is a great need for research in this area. Please take the time to give me your thoughts.

If you are not a mother of a child between the ages of 1-3 years old when your child was 1-3 years old, please do not participate in this survey. I would like to know how you avoid the interaction between a mother and child in a home with electronic devices.

1. Is there any particular electronic device that is an adult product that you would not draw to? Would you consider using a device that is not designed for children? Would you avoid the interaction between a mother and child in a home with electronic devices?
