Concept Statement
The idea behind this design was Unity. The form consists of four trapezoidal shapes interlocking each other, with a protective shell wrapping around the library. Furthermore, by using a  contrast materials from the historic mission would help encourage unity amongst the area by introducing different materials, much like how the library is attempting to unite the elderly and young people in the form of education.