Greg Alexander

Greg Alexander is a world citizen who travels the planet to transmute all the quintessence of femininity on glazed paper. If he nourishes an atavistic passion for Greece, the ground of his ancestors, it's in Paris that he has found his home port. As a photographer, he continues his dream of perfection because, according to him, "the photograph is a kind of plastic surgery which is able to modulate a face ad infinitum!" His vision of beauty is fragile, transitory, a little kitsch and inevitably fatal.

Mark Nejame

For more than 25 years Mark Nejame has been a leading and renowned defense attorney and litigator, having represented thousands of clients throughout Orlando, Florida, the United States and the Caribbean. Mark is now a regular contributor to Orlando Style Magazine and provides his insightful opinion & commentary on a variety of legal topics, including current local legal controversies, celebrity arrest cases and national headlines.

Holly V. Kapherr

A graduate student in creative non-fiction at UCF, Holly V. Kapherr is also an alumnus of the Le Cordon Bleu Culinary Academy in Chicago and spent time as a personal chef and caterer in Paris, France. She is currently working on a book of essays exploring how fusion cuisine is created through political and cultural history. Her food writing has appeared in Altar Magazine, the Orlando Weekly and Cooking Light. She can be reached at hollykapherr@hotmail.com.

Carolyn Brundage

Carolyn Brundage, a respected beauty expert, author and entrepreneur, is the founder of PrettyCity.com, an online guide to beauty and wellness. Brundage grew up in Orlando before going on to write weekly beauty columns for the Chicago Sun-Times and The St. Petersburg Times, penning over 1,000 columns and reviewing over 10,000 beauty products along the way.

Michael Poley

Ohio University graduate Michael Poley is a freelance writer, as well as a print and video editor, who produces and manages content for Orlando Event TV, a web-based video magazine about Orlando arts, events and culture. When he isn't working on Orlando-related content, he writes for internet-famous Orlando sketch comedy group Night of the Night-wolf.

Varinia Pereira

University of Arizona alumnus Varinia Pereira has a passion for people, fashion and music. Creating "Better Health & Lifestyle" magazine in 2008 was the sum of her experience with health and wellness for senior citizens. Looking for newer challenges, Varinia recently moved to Orlando and is proud to be a contributor to Orlando Style Magazine. When not freelance writing, she enjoys the area's attractions, cultural life and of course, the rain.
