

DESIGN DEVELOPMENT

Based on the chosen technologies, different design directions are developed. The design has to illustrate the expectations and needs of the AUV (autonomous underwater vehicle). Therefore the product has to underline the scientific use as well as a serious endurant look and a robust appearance. The design directions were more and more defined with Photoshop and CAD- programs.

