

The EarGate Active Hearing Protection Device

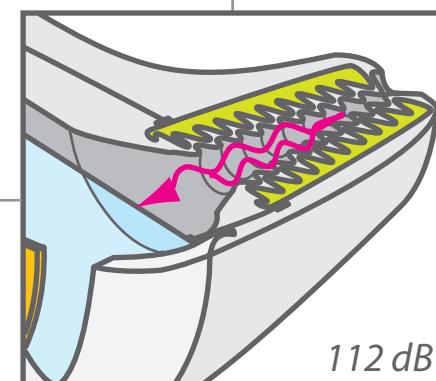

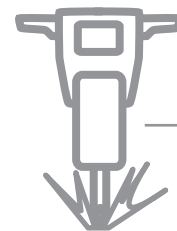

The EarGate is an active hearing protection device. It automatically adjusts itself to the surrounding sound level to provide safe hearing protection.

device fitment

When EarGate senses low intensity sounds it remains open allowing sound waves to pass.

If a loud sound is detected by EarGate the piezoelectric diaphragm will vibrate and charge the gel bladder. The gate will then seal out the destructive sound waves.