

Faces and Forms

Round shape connects to traditional pocket watches, and is the best for living in a pocket

I began thinking about movement and the way the time is displayed to the user that involves interaction to begin to make a connection to the object.

The selected watches helped me choose a direction to further explore keeping with the idea of making the face easy to read at a glance.