Tim's daughter Emily was born in October of 2006. Within a couple of months it was apparent that Emily suffered from severe eczema and allergies. After seeing the best pediatric dermatologists as well as his own research, he discovered that all-natural products could help alleviate Emily's symptoms.

Tim realized it was time to offer all-natural mattresses and rushed to put one in his daughter's crib. Soon after, he developed the 100% all-natural latex mattress known as the Organic Dreams Mattress, and the all-natural Emily Crib Mattress known as the Emily.

In 2008, Tim founded My Green Mattress. He and his employees at the Quality Sleep Shop factory location handcraft the 100% all-natural latex mattresses and ship them all over the country.
